Gambrell to Make Mercer Law Day Talk

CPYRGHT

Special to The Atlanta Journal

MACON, Ga., Oct. 18—E. Smythe Gambrell of Atlanta, president of the American Bar Assn., will deliver a principal address at Mercer University's eighth annual Law Day on Oct. 28. His address will open the Law Day ceremonies at a 10 a.m. assembly at Mercer University's Willingham Chapel. He will be introduced by C. Baxter Jones of Macon, state delegate to the American Bar Assn.

E. Smythe Gambrell

Law Day activities will continue throughout the day, with Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, delivering an address in the afternoon.

The 79th president of the American Bar Assn., Mr. Gambrell has been active in the association for many years. He was chairman of the association's conference of bar association delegates, 1935-1936, and in recent years has made an outstanding record as chairman of its committee on regional meetings. He was chairman of its section of public utility law, 1950-51, and is a member of the council of the section of antitrust law, 1953-56. He was assembly delegate in 1936-1937 and was state delegate from 1952 to 1955. He was elected president at the annual meeting of the association in Philadelphia in August.
